During the design and specification stage of the Metroline washroom installation contract, Lan Services considered the fact that the products chosen would have to be installed within washrooms of varying sizes and layouts. Also, due to a large volume of people using the facilities each day, the specification called for a highly durable and reliable washroom solution that is hygienic, easy to clean and maintain...

Therefore, DVS sensor operated flushvalve kits were used across all toilets. Whilst DVS Aquarius sensor taps were installed on the basins. These no-touch products encourage hand washing compliance and eliminate cross contamination. As well as reducing the spread of bacteria, DVS no-touch products help make significant savings on water consumption and running costs.

DVS products have been chosen and installed by Lan Services in several Metroline depots including; Greenford, Hayes, Willesden, Uxbridge, Harrow and Weald, with further depot refurbishments planned later this year.

Dart Valley Systems continues to support Lan Services and looks forward to further exciting projects.
